

LECTURE TRANSLATES LIFE EXPERIENCE
SIR GRATHWELL KNOWS WHEREOF HE SPEAKS.

Sir Phillip Sidney once said: "If a man would write poetry, let him look into his heart and write." What is true of a poem is true of a lecture. With a real life struggle—in which he was often knocked down but never knocked out—what more natural than that Sam Grathwell, lecturer at Chautauqua on the second night, should talk on "Getting by Your Hoodoo," a study of obstacles and how to overcome them.

Grathwell's story is not dry, nor filled with abstract theories, but a message of human interest straight from the heart. He knows the value of faith, hope, optimism and exalted ideals. He brings them to you with the enthusiasm of virile manhood and by force of his presentation impels you to accept them for your own.

BEWARE OF MOST "ISMS"

Se Baye Virgil L. Shepherd, Chautauqua Lecturer.

Virgil L. Shepherd, author of "The Great Leveller" and co-author of the play of the same name, brings to Chautauqua a splendid constructive lecture on "The Danger of Isms." Clearly and logically Mr. Shepherd outlines the different Utopias which have been attempted and the danger of swinging too far from the established order of things. His lecture deals with the danger of the ultra progressive, the Bolshevik, the man who believes in progress through revolution.

PROFICIENCY IN SECURING JOBS

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Under the haphazard method by which most workers are introduced into factories and shops approximately twice as much time is consumed by employees in acquainting themselves with their new tasks as would be required if they had the opportunity of attending training departments, according to Charles T. Clayton, director of the United States Training Service, a branch of the department of labor. Reports from a large aeroplane factory, from paper box factories, from motor manufacturing plants and many other lines of industry are cited as proof of his statement.

It is pointed out that in these reconstruction days with prices remaining at a high level, American industry must eliminate every unnecessary expense if present wage standards are to be maintained. Recent investigation shows that the waste due to haphazard methods of introducing workers to their tasks is one of the largest burdens on industry at present. Not only does a training department cut in two the time required to teach a worker his task, but it effects an even larger saving by increasing the general efficiency of the working force, say training service representatives.

Since the signing of the armistice the training department idea has been spreading rapidly and at the present time more than 300 manufacturing firms in this country have training in their plants.

AMUSEMENTS

WILLIAM BUTLER

AT THE BUTLER

A program that will be difficult to match will be given at the Butler today when Mr. Farnum appears in "The Rainbow Trail," the sequel to "Riders of the Purple Sage," which was shown here just a month ago.

Whenever Mr. Farnum's name is presented outside the theater, those who visit it are sure of getting their money's worth. In the case of "The Rainbow Trail" they can be doubly certain, as this picture is considered one of the best pieces of work the famous star has yet accomplished. The story centers about the wilderness of Arizona and dates back to the period of the cliff dwellers and to the day when the easiest way to settle arguments was with a six-shooter, and abounds in thrilling events and episodes. Mr. Farnum being supported by his famous cowboys, who do some marvelous riding and shooting. Mr. Farnum is again seen as Lassiter, the feared rider of the range and the terror of the Utah border. He also portrays the role of Shefford, who searches the mountains for the girl he loves. Added to the feature, will be "The Son of Democracy" (Down the River), the Abraham Lincoln picture, finishing up a program that is almost impossible to beat.

Tomorrow there will be no picture show. The theater has been turned over to the Tonopah high school for their big show tomorrow night.

SOMETHING THEY WILL

TRY TO FORGET

(New Orleans mes-Picayune)

It probably is safe to predict—if it were ever safe to predict—that the next Democratic platform will carefully refrain from pointing with pride to the Burlesonization of the postal, telegraph and cable service.
